Welcome to the village of flowers
 perfumed by the wind

Kuju Hana Koen (Kuju Flower Park)

The flower village floats gently above the heart of Kyushu.
 Soothing time passes gently surrounded by the fragrances of Mother Nature from the flowers of the changing seasons.

Kuju Hanakoen Map

A flower village perfumed by Kuju

The magnificent Kuju Kogen plateau is located in the heart of Kyushu. The Kuju Hana Koen (Flower Park) is 49 acres of land sprawled across the Kuju plateau with around 3 million individual flowers of 500 different varieties blooming in profusion from spring to autumn. Inside the park grounds are perfume and flower shops.

Blueberry field
(Early July – Late August)
10 varieties of blueberries are cultivated here. You can pick blueberries during harvest season.

Green House
Antilles

All varieties of begonias and tropical flowering trees bloom in abundance, including begonia bulbs arranged in a large ring.

Perfume and gift shop
Kazekobo

Offers an assortment of aromatic products and therapeutic goods. Promotes a lifestyle surrounded by fragrances.

Tea shop gallery and hands-on experience workshop
Moegi Yakata

Includes a photo exhibit of magnificent Kuju Flower Park throughout the seasons. You can also enjoy coffee and light snacks, and participate in a craft workshop on the premises.

Gelato shop
Charlotte

A shop that offers gelato made with 100% Kuju Kogen milk, the choicest coffee, and cakes which use eggs produced right in Kuju.

Handmade bread workshop
Pascolo

The flower village bakery. Take home freshly baked bread or eat your lunch surrounded by flowers.

Dried flowers and gift shop
Rose de Mai

A dried flower shop where you can make your own original wreaths.

Kuju, Takeda's specialty goods shop
Hana Temari

A shop offering specialty products from nature's blessings, such as fresh vegetables and delicious pickled foods, as well as other miscellaneous Japanese items.

Fast food
Camomile

Lavender, amao strawberries, peaches and other seasonal soft ice creams are bestsellers! Nothing beats eating soft ice cream while viewing the Kuju mountain range.

Wild grass tea
Chamu

Try samples of health drinks mixed with wild grasses, grains and fruits. The experiences of this area's pioneers have lessons of wisdom for living.

Souvenir shop
Gin no Mori

A general purpose souvenir shop. Offers special products from Kuju, goods from the Flower Park and much more.

Buffet restaurant
No no Yasai

(vegetables from the fields)

A buffet that mostly offers wild grasses and fresh vegetables grown in Kuju Kogen. They have prepared a menu with 40 varieties on any given day. Also recommended is toriten (deep fried chicken), a popular local dish of Kuju.

Fast food
Basil

The bestseller here is the blueberry soft ice cream! The mildly tart taste of the blueberries is a big hit.

Local specialty goods shop
Hana no Eki

This shop has all of the local specialty products, starting with the ones in Kuji and Takeda. It has a wide assortment of souvenirs that will give you joyful memories of the Flower Park.
